

American Musicological Society – Southeast Chapter
Fall Meeting, September 24, 2016
Broyhill Music Center, Hayes School of Music
Appalachian State University (Recital Hall: Room 129)

8:45 Registration and Refreshments

9:15 Welcome and Opening Remarks: Dean William Pelto, Hayes School of Music,
Appalachian State University

9:20 Paper Session 1: Narratives in “Other(-ed)” Voices (Chair: Patricia Puckett Sasser, Furman University)

Imani Mosley (Duke University), “Radical Otherness: The Singing Body as Site of Disruption in Britten’s A Midsummer Night’s Dream”

Brad Fugate (Davidson College), “Embodied Listening and the Countertenor:
Exploring the Materiality of the Contemporary Countertenor Voice and its Connections to Gender, Identity, and Sexuality”

Sarah Elaine Neill (Whitsett, NC), “The Lost Legacy of George Garner: Race, Classical Music, and Canonization”

10:50 Break

11:00 Chapter Discussion of Diversity, Inclusivity, and Equity (Introduction:
Elizabeth Keathley, University of North Carolina at Greensboro)

12:30 Lunch

2:00 Chapter Business Meeting

2:20 Paper Session 2: Source Studies (Chair: J. Brooks Kuykendall, Erskine College)

Marya Orłowska-Fancey (University of North Carolina at Greensboro), “Towards a Better Understanding of Liturgical Organ Music from the Jan of Lublin Tablature”

Amy Carr-Richardson (East Carolina University), “A Series of Musical Influence:
Correlations Among Works by Bach, Haydn, and Mozart, with Beethoven’s
'Cello Sonata Op. 102/2”

3:20 Break

3:30 Paper Session 3: Questions of Style (Chair: Victor Mansure, Appalachian State University)

Kathryn White (Mercer University), “Signifyin(g) and the ‘Heterogeneous Sound Ideal’ in Lin-Manuel Miranda’s Hamilton”

Kunio Hara (University of South Carolina), “‘Delivering Something Forgotten’: Music and Memory in My Neighbor Totoro and Grave of the Fireflies”

4:30 Closing

Appreciation is extended to the following individuals at Appalachian State University’s Hayes School of Music for their support of this program: Dr. Reeves Shulstad, Dr. Victor Mansure, Dean William Pelto, and student volunteers.